SHAPING HEALTHY FUTURES Together

The Oceanic Nutrition Leadership Platform (ONLP) was established to strengthen the future of nutrition leadership across Oceania through collaboration, connection and shared purpose.

As our region faces growing challenges in nutrition, food systems, health equity and sustainability, there is an increasing need for leaders who can influence change across research, policy, education and community practice.

ONLP brings together emerging and established nutrition professionals from across Oceania to develop these leadership capabilities, foster regional collaboration, and build a strong network committed to improving health outcomes throughout the region.

Supporting ONLP is an investment in the next generation of nutrition leaders.

Your sponsorship helps create opportunities for emerging professionals, strengthens equitable access across diverse communities, and supports a more connected and resilient Oceania.

ONLP Chair

Vision and Mission

Working together towards sustainable food and nutrition security for Oceania by developing, inspiring and connecting a new generation of visionary leaders in nutrition.

The ONLP Leadership Program

At the heart of ONLP is a highly immersive 6-day biennial leadership program designed for early- and mid-career professionals working across nutrition, food systems, public health, research, education, policy and community sectors.

This program aims to develop leadership capability and foster connectivity in the field of nutrition across the Oceania region.

Through experiential learning, mentorship, collaborative challenges, and real-world leadership activities, participants develop the skills needed to drive meaningful impact across Oceania.

The program focuses on:

- Leadership and influence
- Communication and advocacy
- Team building and collaboration
- Social responsibility
- Policy and systems thinking
- Nutrition and food security challenges

Graduates become part of the growing ONLP alumni network — a connected community of leaders working to shape healthier futures across Oceania.

Since its launch in 2016, ONLP courses have been hosted across the region, including Australia and Fiji. There have been four courses, developing the leadership capability of 88 alumni.

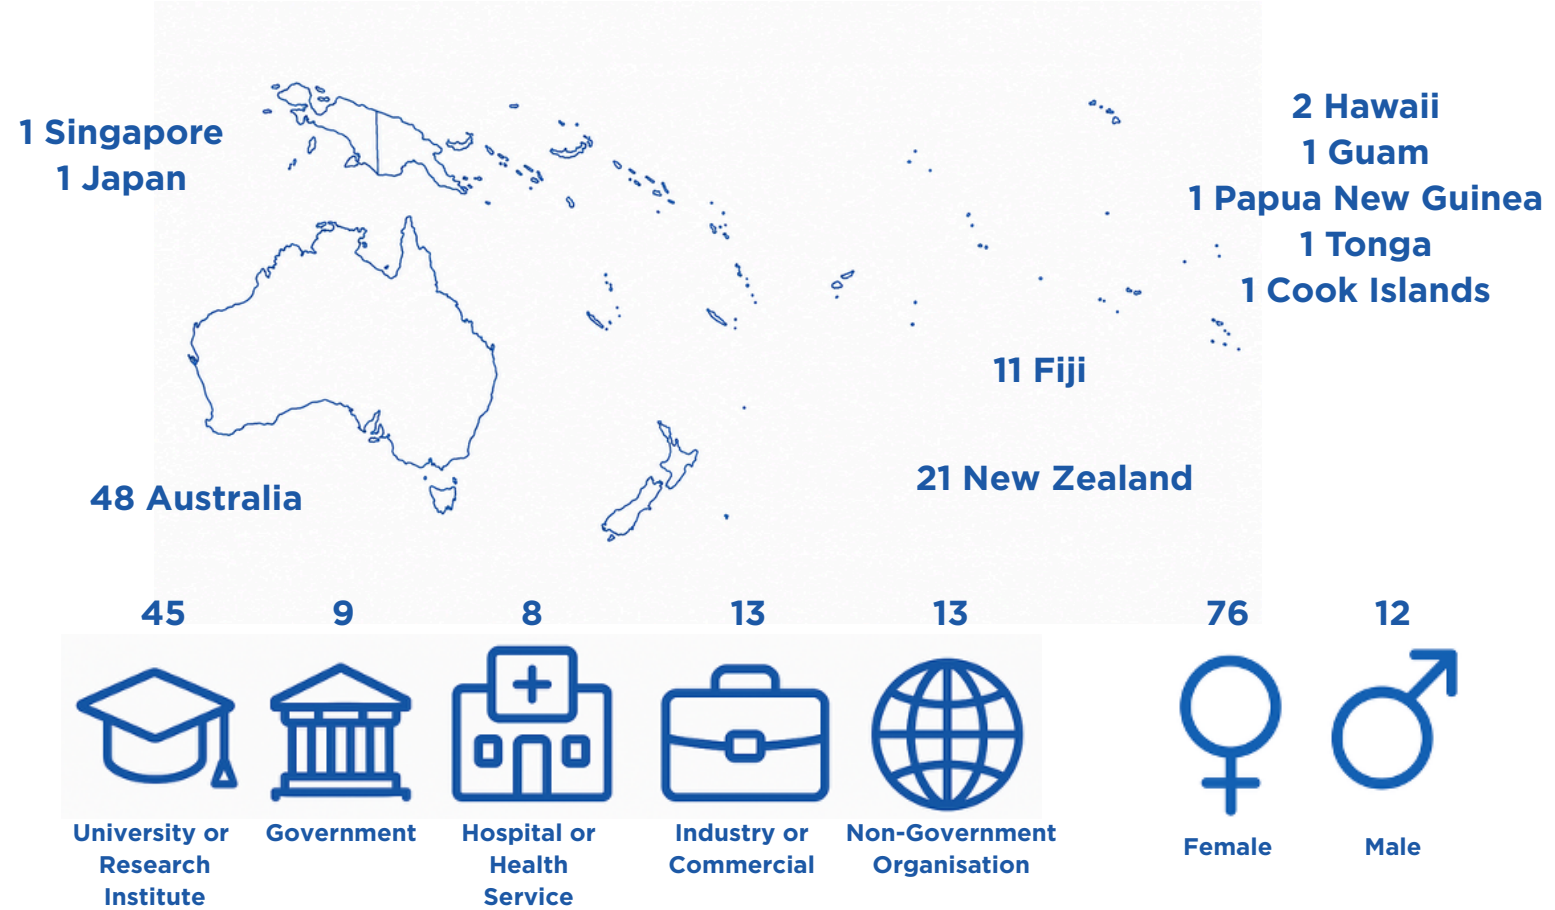

The next ONLP Course

The 5th course (ONLP 2027) will be held 20-27 June 2027, Viti Levu, Fiji.

Partnering with ONLP

Supporting ONLP is an investment in the future of nutrition leadership across Oceania. As a not-for-profit organisation, ONLP relies on partners who share our commitment to strengthening leadership, building regional capacity, and improving nutrition and food security outcomes across the region.

As an ONLP sponsor, your organisation can:

- Demonstrate Leadership: Show your commitment to health, nutrition, food security and sustainable development across Oceania.
- Support Future Leaders: Invest in the development of emerging nutrition professionals across the region.
- Strengthen Regional Networks: Connect with leaders across academia, industry, government, healthcare and the community sector.
- Enhance Organisational Visibility: Build your profile through recognition across ONLP communications and events.
- Build Regional Capacity: Support leadership development and workforce capability across Oceania.
- Create Lasting Impact: Contribute to stronger nutrition and food security outcomes through leadership and collaboration.

Recognition and Engagement

Depending on the sponsorship option selected, partners may receive:

- Recognition on the ONLP website and promotional materials
- Opportunities to support participant scholarships
- A report outlining outcomes from the ONLP course
- Feedback and reflections from sponsored participants
- Opportunities to engage with the ONLP community and alumni network
- Association with a respected regional and global leadership platform

Platinum and Gold Sponsors have the opportunity to provide a short video message to participants, sharing their organisation's vision and contribution to nutrition and leadership development.

"Sponsoring the ONLP provides an opportunity to build your organisation's profile within the food and nutrition professional community across Oceania and build links with other organisations in industry, academia, the public sector and the non-profit-sector." - dsm-firmenich (ONLP Sponsor)

SPONSORSHIP

Opportunities

Platinum Sponsorship

AUD 20,000 - Maximum of two sponsors
(or equivalent in NZD, USD, FJD)

Invest in the Future of ONLP

Platinum Sponsors play a critical role in ensuring the long-term sustainability and growth of the Oceanic Nutrition Leadership Platform.

This sponsorship supports the leadership, governance, administration, communications and strategic activities required to deliver the ONLP course and maintain an active alumni network across Oceania. It also enables ongoing engagement opportunities between courses, such as alumni events, webinars, professional networking and opportunities to contribute to the course program.

Platinum Sponsors help ensure that ONLP remains accessible, impactful and connected between course years, while also strengthening their organisational profile and engaging with a dynamic network of emerging nutrition leaders across Oceania.

Optional Additional Benefit: Platinum Sponsorship includes course fees (excluding travel) for one employee from the funding organisation to secure a place in the ONLP course, provided they meet the ONLP eligibility criteria.

Gold Sponsorship

AUD 10,000
(or equivalent in NZD, USD, FJD)

Develop Future Leaders

Gold Sponsors directly support the delivery of the ONLP leadership program.

This sponsorship helps keep the ONLP course accessible and affordable for participants from across Oceania by supporting leadership workshops, mentoring, experiential learning activities and course delivery. Gold Sponsors enable a diverse cohort of emerging nutrition leaders to participate and benefit from this unique leadership experience.

Sponsor a Course Participant

From AUD 1,000 up to AUD 6,500

(or equivalent in NZD, USD, FJD)

Sponsorship support enables participation by nutrition professionals who may otherwise be unable to attend ONLP.

Funders may choose to support:

- A full scholarship
- A partial scholarship

Funders may stipulate the target group (e.g. participants from a particular sector, and/or geographic region).

Approximate Cost Per Participant

Item	Approximate Cost
Course fee (including board and lodging)	AUD 5,500
Travel	AUD 500–3,000
Estimated total participant cost	Approx. AUD 7,000

Each ONLP course typically hosts approximately 25–30 participants.

Support a Course Facilitator

AUD 3,000

(or equivalent in NZD, USD, FJD)

ONLP facilitators are carefully selected leaders in their fields. Many generously volunteer their time; however, there are still costs associated with their participation and attendance.

Your support helps ensure the continued involvement of high-quality facilitators who enrich the ONLP experience.

EVENT SPONSORSHIP Opportunities

Evening Excursion Out Sponsor

AUD 3,000 - Maximum of one sponsor
(or equivalent in NZD, USD, FJD)

Held mid-way through the course, the Evening Excursion Out provides participants with a change of environment and an opportunity to connect informally outside the intensive course schedule.

The sponsor may provide a pre-prepared presentation (up to 5 minutes) on a leadership-related topic relevant to their organisation.

Graduation Ceremony Dinner Sponsor

AUD 2,000 - One sponsor only
(or equivalent in NZD, USD, FJD)

The Graduation Ceremony Dinner celebrates the completion of the ONLP course and the strengthening network of nutrition leaders across Oceania.

The sponsor may provide a pre-prepared presentation (up to 5 minutes) on a leadership-related topic relevant to their organisation.

Partner with ONLP

By sponsoring ONLP, your organisation contributes to the development of future nutrition leaders who will influence policy, education, food systems, research and community health outcomes across Oceania.

ONLP Alumni

"The ONLP course was a unique and invaluable experience that I am so grateful to have had. We had the rare opportunity to immerse ourselves in learning and networking for a full week with a wonderful group of course facilitators and participants."

- Ellie Dunlop

"The ONLP is not just any leadership course. It was fully immersive, intense, and inspiring. The social responsibility sessions reminded me of why I am so passionate about nutrition, and really helped me reflect on the type of research that I do, and how I can ensure my work is valuable to the wider community."

- Amy Hutchison

"I found this course to be transformational on a personal and professional level as it demanded a high degree of vulnerability and trust from a group of strangers in a relatively short time."

- Najma Moumin

"Networking with not only other Australian participants, but those from other countries and regions was invaluable. Especially other Aboriginal, Pasifika, Māori participants helped weave our multiple knowledge systems and perspectives on important topics covered in ONLP, such as leadership, community, relationships, communication and food systems and knowledges."

- Michael Watkins

"This training has expanded my horizon in understanding about effective leadership skills, knowing who I am, and how I can bring my strengths to work better as a team and a leader."

- Sala Naliva
